International Association of Sound and Audiovisual Archives (IASA)
48th Annual Conference
Ethnological Museum, Berlin, Germany, 17 - 21 September 2017

IASA conferences give your business unprecedented access to the world’s major sound and audiovisual institutions.

This year IASA brings together an impressive range of world class expertise, knowledge and experience and so continues its aim to promote, encourage and support the development of best, professional sound and audiovisual standards and practice in all countries.

IASA is an accepted international leader in the field of sound and audiovisual archiving and the premiere organization in setting operating standards and work practices. It has also had a long commitment to the support of archives and collections in developing and emerging countries.

Established in 1969 as a platform for international co-operation between archives that preserve recorded sound and audiovisual documents, IASA now has members from more than 70 countries, representing most major collections and archives, including national libraries, archives and broadcasters holding musical recordings, historic, literary, folkloric and ethnological sound documents, theatre productions and oral history interviews, bioacoustics, environmental and medical sounds, linguistic and dialect recordings, as well as recordings for forensic purposes.

The IASA conference is an agenda setter for the ongoing debates in sound and audiovisual archiving. Our most recent conferences include our thought-provoking and enlightening 2014 conference in Cape Town, South Africa, the spectacular 2015 conference at the Bibliothèque nationale de France in Paris, and the inspiring 2016 conference at the Library of Congress, Washington, DC, USA.

The 2017 Conference, our 48th Annual Conference, is being hosted by and held at the Ethnological Museum, Berlin, Germany, from Sunday 17 - Thursday 21 September 2017 with the theme A World of Opportunity: Audiovisual Archives and the Digital Landscape. This conference explores new technologies, new systems, and innovative and collaborative services that link our audiovisual heritage with a wider audience, make possible new and diverse use cases, and effect more robust, resilient and affordable preservation efforts.
Sponsors of the IASA Conference achieve high visibility amongst the attendees of the conference and the members of this forward-thinking organization. Sponsoring the IASA Conference provides opportunity for your company and it facilitates our initiatives in the world of sound and audiovisual archiving, maintaining education, training and other standards and guidance activities that we provide. Finally, your generous sponsorship ensures that participation in our conference remains affordable in today’s global economy.
